Community Guidelines

This is a community built altar, and we ask that you own the images, and necessary permission to share them. Make sure the images are all age friendly, and that they respect other peoples' values and cultures.

We will do our best to manage the content added by community members, and we reserve the right to remove inappropriate images. The images and views expressed in this digital altar are each author's own, and do not reflect the view, and values of Sol Collective, Listos California, and other partners in this project.
